The members of the Committee give their services gratuitously and their well-known reputation insures to all inquirers unbiased and unprejudiced information. The funds for carrying on this work are subscribed by a large number of bankers, merchants, professional men and others of the city of San Francisco. The California Promotion Committee has representatives in all portions of the State and is kept conversant with the conditions in the several localities, thus enabling it to direct and properly locate newcomers to California according to their various inclinations, whether they come as visitors or wage-earners. The Committee maintains headquarters in the central part of the city of San Francisco convenient to the hotels and other points of interest, where all are cordially welcome and reliably informed regarding the city and State. At these headquarters may be found reading, writing and lounging rooms for the convenience of visitors. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books.
